DocStyle LLC to Launch Exclusive Software at ABA TECHSHOW 2019

A new and innovative solution for structured PDF conversion and Word styling automation.

Miami, FL - February 22, 2019 – DocStyle LLC is launching their new products, DocStyle and DocStyle Ribbon, during ABA TECHSHOW 2019 in Chicago. DocStyle's interpretative process will analyze content, apply styles and automate Word processing.

Top features & benefits include:

- Artificial intelligence built in to apply styles such as numbered paragraphs, headers and footers, table of contents and tables during the conversion from PDF to a Word document.
- Intelligent Formatting Recognition (IFR) engine that analyzes, interprets and structures a document to create a clean document without formatting nightmares that waste precious time.

"In an industry where time is precious, improper conversions and poorly formatted documents have been a serious distraction for the practice of law. DocStyle introduces the most significant efficiency advancements made in the last 20 years, by automating what has been a time consuming, manual process up until now," said Chris Cangero, CEO of DocStyle LLC.

DocStyle LLC was voted into ABA TECHSHOW 2019 as a Startup Alley finalist. They will participate in the Startup Alley Pitch Competition on opening night, February 27th at 5 p.m. CST. They can be found at Booth #6 through March 1st.
